migs flow
WEB DESIGN

/ before we talk proposals

Let's see if we're a good fit!

What this is
A short intro before your proposal

Read time
~5 minutes

What's inside

Five short sections. Tap any of them to jump straight there.

03 About
Who I am and how I like to work

04 Services & pricing
The three ways to work together, and what each costs

05 Process
The six stages every project moves through

06 Recent work
A few projects, plus kind words from past clients

07 FAQ & next steps
Common questions, is-this-you checklist, and how to move forward

In a hurry? Services & pricing and Process cover the essentials.

Hi, I'm Miguelle!

Web designer & developer at migs flow

I design and build websites for small businesses that need more than just something that looks good on launch day. I create sites that are built to support your business, whether that means booking more calls, selling products, or generating consistent leads.

My background is in Mechanical Engineering, and I taught myself how to code in 2024. That problem-solving mindset shapes how I approach every project — I look at the bigger picture first, which means we start with your business goals, not a ready-made template.

Once my team and I understand what your website needs to accomplish, we move into the design process. You'll get a partner who explains decisions in plain language, respects deadlines, and is honest when something may not be the right fit for your business.

Outside of client work, I love going for walks, playing video games, and spending time with family.

> MIGUELLE'S PHILOSOPHY
>
> "A website's job is to do the selling when you can't be in the room."

What I can build for you

Three ways to work together, depending on how you'd rather pay and who manages the site long-term.

MOST AFFORDABLE

SUBSCRIPTION

Monthly

$125/mo

6-month minimum · then month-to-month

Best for small businesses that want a premium, lead-generating site without managing hosting, updates, or maintenance themselves.

- Custom design & development
- Includes hosting
- Up to 5 pages included
- $100 one-time fee per page after 5
- Consultation request form built in
- Project portfolio / photo gallery
- Unlimited edits
- 24/7 support
- Lifetime updates

ONE-TIME PAYMENT

Lump Sum

$1,250

Starting price · up to 5 pages · +$25/mo if hosting needed

Best for small businesses that want full ownership of their site and prefer to pay once upfront rather than monthly.

- Custom design & development
- Up to 5 pages included
- +$100 per additional page
- Consultation request form built in
- Project portfolio / photo gallery
- 30-day post-launch support
- Full ownership — you keep the site

FULL SYSTEM BUILD

Enterprise

$2,000+

Scoped & priced per project

For businesses that want advanced lead systems, automated follow-up, client portals, and custom integrations built into their site.

- Everything in Lump Sum
- Online estimate & deposit systems
- Automated lead follow-up & CRM integration
- Client login portal & project dashboard
- Booking & consultation scheduling
- Custom backend logic & API integrations

Every project is scoped individually once we know your goals — this page is a starting point, not a final quote.

Not sure what your budget looks like yet? Don't be afraid to reach out. I've worked with plenty of clients who didn't have a big budget to start, and was still able to help them get a baseline site up with what they had. Tell me what you're working with, and I'll tell you what's possible.

How we'd work together

Every project moves through the same six stages. You'll always know what's happening and what's next.

01 Discover [1–2 days]

We talk through your goals, audience, and what "success" looks like for the site. This shapes everything after it.

02 Onboarding [1 week max]

You send me your logo, photos, and content using a simple checklist, so I have everything I need to start building.

03 Design + Build [1–3 weeks]

I design and build side by side, starting with key pages so you can react early. A private link lets you follow along as it comes together.

04 Setup & Handoff [1–2 days]

We get the practical pieces in place — contact forms, domain connection, and (if you're taking ownership of the site) getting you set up with a GitHub account. Small step, but it means nothing gets missed.

05 Review [2–3 days]

We test everything together — links, forms, load speed, mobile — and make final adjustments before anything goes live.

06 Launch [1 day]

Your site goes live. I stick around after launch to fix anything that comes up and make sure the handoff is smooth.

Most projects run start to finish in [2–5 weeks]

Larger projects can range from 6–12 weeks, depending on complexity.

Recent work

A few projects from the last year. Full case studies available on request.

HOME SERVICES

Meridian Pools — Custom Pool Builder Site

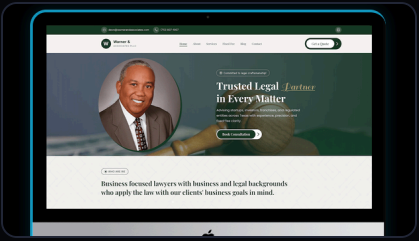

A fully custom pool builder site built to showcase premium work, build trust fast, and guide visitors from first click to consultation request.

VOICEOVER & ENTERTAINMENT

L.A. Pope — Voiceover & Narration

A clean, personality-driven portfolio designed to let her voice and brand take center stage while making it effortless for producers to book.

LEGAL

Warner & Associates — Business Law Firm

A polished, trust-first site built to establish authority instantly and guide clients straight to a booked consultation.

/kind-words

★★★★★

"Working with MigsFlow Web Design, and especially Miguelle, was an absolute dream. I needed a new website built quickly after learning my old site had been dismantled, and Miguelle stepped in right away with calm, clear guidance and real expertise."

Lori P.
Voice Narrator

★★★★★

"I am beyond grateful to Miguelle for fully coding my new website. She is professional, intelligent, patient, and an incredible web designer. I truly hope she goes far because her work speaks for itself."

Asia J.
Founder, Anjelic Hair Care

★★★★★

"The website looks great and my wife loves it too. It's a 1000% upgrade from my old site!"

Deon W.
Corporate Real Estate Lawyer

Want to see full case studies or talk to a past client? Just ask — happy to share.

Good to know

How long does a typical project take?

It can take up to 2–5 weeks, but a lot depends on how quickly you get content to me and give feedback on changes and updates — the longer either takes, the longer the build takes. Larger projects can run 6–12 weeks. You'll get a clear timeline in your proposal, so you're never guessing.

What's the difference between Monthly and Lump Sum?

Monthly is essentially a lease — a more affordable way to get a professional site without paying everything upfront. It's a 6-month minimum, includes hosting and lifetime edits & updates, and you don't own the site outright while subscribed. If you ever want to buy it out, you only pay the remaining balance — so if your site would've been $1,250 as a Lump Sum and you'd already paid 6 months at $125/mo ($750), you'd only owe $500 to own it outright. Lump Sum is the opposite: you pay the full price upfront (with a 50% deposit to start) and own the site outright from day one. Hosting is optional at +$25/mo, and unlimited edits can be added for +$50/mo.

What do you need from me to get started?

Brand assets like your logo, a clear idea of your goals, the content you want on the site, and a quick discovery call so I can get to know you and your business.

What happens after the site launches?

Lump Sum clients get a 15-day grace period where I'm available to help with anything that comes up, plus every file you need so you always have full access to your site. Monthly clients get ongoing monitoring — I'm keeping an eye on your site and available anytime you have questions.

This tends to work best when you're —

- — Ready to invest in a real site, not the cheapest option available
- — Able to give feedback and turn things around in a timely manner — a few days
- — Looking for a long-term web design partner, not just a one-off build

Ready to talk specifics?

If this feels like a fit, reply to this email or book a short call —
I'll put together a full proposal for your project from there.

Let's get started →